IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO ENROLL STUDENTS ARE TOP PRIORITY

Billy Bevan

Billy Bevan
President

Twenty-four years ago, about this same time of the year, I found myself in quite a confused position. I had just graduated from high school, and was trying to plan my future. Of course, there's all kinds of free advice for a teenager at this point in his life. And to be truthful, the conglomeration of the tid-bits of wisdom you receive can be very confusing.

What do I do? How do I know what to do? These are good questions, but they are not always that easy to answer.

I had made pretty good grades in high school and had no trouble being accepted at a college. I applied at a teacher's college. This school had a football program, and I wanted to play football. I had not received a scholarship, but felt like I could make it as a walk-on. I planned to major in history and physical education and wanted to become a high school coach. (These are very noble plans. There is certainly nothing wrong with wanting to be a teacher, coach and attend a teacher's college.)

However, it was wrong for me, because these were my plans and not God's plans. I had never, one time, asked God what He wanted for my life.

Things began to happen. I was not where I should have been spiritually. I was confused, frustrated and really didn't know where to turn. But through the prayers of Godly parents and friends, their love and advice, God was able to get me where He wanted me.

It was not at the teacher's college but at a Bible college! In fact, I applied so late, they called me on the phone and told me I could come--(They did not have time to send a reply by mail.).

I am so glad the Lord brought me to that decision. I didn't want to yield, and was stubborn, but somehow God worked it out.

Other than my salvation, it has been the single greatest influence in my life (not excluding my parents, of course). I will never forget the days I had at Bible College. I developed life-long friendships, found God's will for my life, formulated my standards and convictions, found my life's mate, and learned many, many things that have helped me in my ministry.

Maybe you have a son or daughter, or know of a young person, that is experiencing these same questions. Or perhaps you are a teenager, may I say to you, "It's not too late to enroll." And I know just the place--Southeastern Free Will Baptist College--"where students are our top priority!"

Don't ignore God's dealing with you. Don't dismiss the advice of folks who love and care for you. And most of all, be sure you are on the road that leads to fulfilling God's will for your life.

We at Southeastern would count it a privilege to be a part of your life. If God is leading you to a Christian college, we would count it an honor to have you here. We are committed to "serving students best." You will find a "friend" at Southeastern.

1990 CHRISTIAN SCHOOL BLITZ

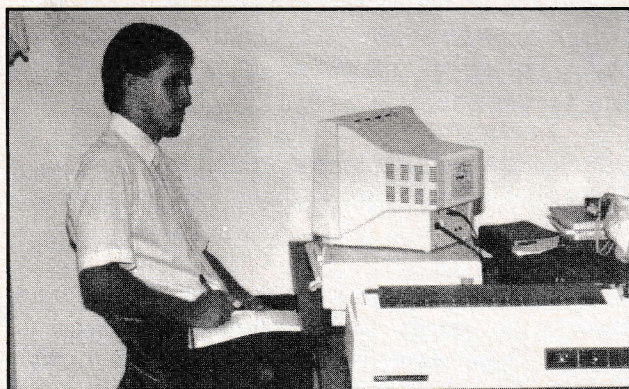

On May 7, 1990, college students scattered far and wide to participate in our first Christian School Blitz. Area Christian schools were targeted on that day with the aim of introducing Southeastern Free Will Baptist College. The college students attended classes, took part in chapel times, ate with the Christian school students, met with prospective students, etc. One of the main goals was simply to "be a friend."

The comments received from various schools were excellent. One principal wrote, "We sincerely appreciate Ron and Leanne taking the time to visit with our school students. They are fantastic representatives of your college and we really enjoyed having them."

Thanks "college students." You are our best promotional asset.

COMPUTER TRACT ADDED

Students at Southeastern can now major in computers!

A brand new "Computer Application" tract has been added as an option to our Business Associate degree. Students will continue to be able to follow the already existing "Accounting" and "Secretarial Skills" concentrations.

The new "Computer Applications" tract will include the following courses:

Introduction to Computers
Word Processing I and II
Computer Applications I and II
(including data bases and spread sheets)
Introduction to Programming I and II
Desk Top Publishing

The Business Associate degree can be earned in just two years and many of the skills learned in class can help the student get a better job while at school!

If you, or someone you know, are interested in this extremely practical course, call the college today.

EXTENSION STUDIES UPDATE

The Board of Directors of Southeastern has asked Dr. Johnny Sexton to develop and oversee the Extension Studies Program for Southeastern. Dr. Sexton brings to this position twenty years of pastoral experience. In addition, he has been involved in some aspect of Christian education for the past fifteen years. He earned his Master's and Doctorate degrees through Luther Rice Seminary.

Dr. Johnny Sexton

Dr. Sexton is married and he and his wife, Peggy, have four children: Rev. Karl Sexton, associate at Gateway FWB Church; David, a student at Southeastern; Tracy, a teacher at Hilltop Christian School, and Teresa, a student at Hilltop. Peggy also teaches at Hilltop. Bro. Sexton will presently divide his duties between the development of the Extension Studies Program and Hilltop Free Will Baptist Church, where he is an associate.

Dr. Sexton is working overtime to have all of the first phase of our Extension Studies program ready by September 1, 1990. We hope to have a brochure ready by mid-July explaining our program and listing all of our available offerings for the fall. We will be sending all of our Cooperating Board pastors a bundle of these brochures to distribute to their people.

Remember to pray for Bro. Sexton and this program. I believe you will be pleased and impressed with what we will have to offer our people.

We ARE Serving "You" Better

Several months ago we asked faculty, staff, students, board members and parents how we could serve you better. We received several responses from all across the country.

We have diligently tried to incorporate some of your ideas into our college. We are serving you better by: a college video that shows "college highlights", college signs have been placed on the main highway, the extension studies program is being revitalized, tapes are available for local radio stations for promotion and the Christian School Blitz was a great success.

Keep those ideas coming! We'll serve you even better!

SERVICE 1990 REPORT

As a full-time Christian school consultant, Dr. A. A. Baker, formerly of Pensacola Christian College, has been used of God to assist numerous Christian institutions across the nation. Since early this year, he has been using his experience and expertise here at Southeastern to improve our program and to develop more effective student recruitment.

"Service 1990" is a promise from the administration and faculty that no better service to students can be found anywhere. This pledge not only involves superior classroom instruction, but a rewarding campus life, assistance in locating part-time jobs, and other areas of student concern.

Students, parents, faculty and cooperating board members have offered their input by responding to questionnaires regarding Southeastern's service to students. In addition, Dr. Baker's "Service 1990" has been instrumental in soliciting the names of many prospective students. Faculty and students have been active in contacting these prospects by phone and/or letter. President Bevan is also very involved in this aspect of "Service 1990."

We are very excited about "Service 1990" and are anticipating a great year as Southeastern continues to implement the program.

WHERE DO YOU SEND YOUR STUDENTS AND SUPPORT?

By Dann Patrick

Recently I received a questionnaire in the mail regarding what I thought of the name of a certain college and if I would support a name change? In just a few more days, I received a similar questionnaire from another Christian college wanting me to respond concerning their fund raising method--should they spend the money from a large gift that had been donated to them or continue to use the interest only. As far as I know, I have never given any money to either of these institutions, I am simply on their mailing list.

Because of the drop in Christian college enrollment across the country, schools are evaluating and re-evaluating their entire program. From candy in the vending machines to the curriculum in the classrooms, colleges are taking a second look. They are trying to make it clear to their constituency exactly who they are and where they are headed. Some, in my opinion, are headed in the wrong direction. The reason? They would do almost anything in the name of student recruitment. So, some colleges have compromised and that kind of compromise is simply apostasy on the installment plan.

Southeastern is not a perfect college. I am not even going to tell you we have the best college in the country. What I will tell you is this. In the past few years, I have heard the best young preachers I have ever heard at any college. I have attended the best chapel services ever--where the professors participate with sound preaching, soul-stirring singing, and even some amens, where it is like a revival meeting instead of a lecture. I have seen the best personal soul winners and heard testimonies from those who walked with God. There is certainly more but that is how Southeastern was born and that is how she is today. Isn't that where you want to send your students and your support?

Minister's Retreat Planned

Since its inception, our Cooperating Board Meeting each January has been a great success. This past January we had 70 men to spend a few hours with us. A couple of fellows drove all the way from Georgia!

This year we thought it might be nice to invite our Cooperating Board to spend the night in our dorms and make a retreat out of it. This will be an informal time for preachers to fellowship and get some pointers that will "help" them in their local church ministries.

The highlight of this year's retreat will be a seminar conducted by Dr. A. A. Baker. Commenting on this seminar Dr. Baker says, "I will try to share some new and innovative ideas for marketing the church in the 90's. These ideas will help keep these pastors on the leading edge of change while building on the solid foundation that never changes."

A brochure listing the program, speakers and minimal cost will be forthcoming soon.

Plan on being with us on January 3rd and 4th of 1991.
