How May We Serve You Better?

BILLY BEVAN
President

That is the question that I have recently asked our students, their parents, our faculty and over one hundred and forty pastors and board members who support this ministry.

I asked because I want to know. I asked because I realize that we must be meeting the needs of our constituents if we are to have a vital ministry in the days ahead. I asked because I want us to have the heart of the perfect servant, Jesus Christ, as we serve him by serving others.

We live in a service oriented society. The businesses and institutions who provide the best service to their clients are the ones who will survive during the 1990's. This principal holds true for our Christian ministries and is vital to Southeastern as well.

I believe we have what it takes to provide excellent service.

- We have a love for the Lord Jesus.
- We have a sacred calling to this ministry.
- We have a love for our students.
- We have a desire to multiply our lives through the lives of our students.
- We have the love and respect of our students because we have served them in the past.

SERVICE 1990

"We are committed to serving students best."

This is the theme around which we have built our 1990 recruitment campaign. These are not just words. We are doing everything possible to put this promise into practice on our campus.

We realize that Southeastern may not have the largest campus with the greatest number of programs. We can, however, have quality academics, offer the best in christian training and provide a warm spiritual atmosphere for christian growth. In addition, we can provide the best service to our students, their parents and our constituents of any christian college in America. That's our goal!

We would count it a privilege to be able to serve you. Our faculty, staff and students are working feverishly to make good our boast of "serving students best."

Recently, our students were asked, "What do you like best about Southeastern?" "What one thing would you recommend to your friends?" Without exception, our students answered, "We like the family atmosphere. We have good friends here. Everyone cares for each other. There is a closeness and security here."

I believe you would find the same thing. I invite you to "sample our service."

AROUND CAMPUS

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to live on a college campus and be part of the "happenings" that go on there? Many exciting and unusual things happen during the course of a semester which you would certainly enjoy!

- At our recent Sweetheart Banquet, one of our young men proposed to his girlfriend as part of the program. He "popped the question" right in front of everyone, giving her a beautiful diamond. You may well prefer a more private setting for this wonderful occasion which could be arranged.
- For the first time, our students enjoyed a thrilling and exciting ski trip to the mountains. A great number of them had never skied which made for a fun and hilarious time. This day will undoubtedly be remembered as one of the best ever during their days at Southeastern.
- First white-water rafting trip is coming up.
- Competition between the societies has created much excitement since each event they participate in and win gives them points which are accumulated over the year. The society who wins in total points will be presented a trophy and treated to a great meal at the end of the semester. They have already competed in tennis, chess, volleyball, basketball and bowling with other events upcoming.
- The Agora — an organization set up to debate certain current issues to determine the Biblical and proper approach to them. These events have been enlightening and mind stretching.
- "Prayer and Praise" on Saturday night closes out our weeks.

Time nor space would allow us to tell of all that goes on at Southeastern's campus. It is a GREAT place to be. I am so thankful that Christian college students can have a great and fun time. Aren't you?

HOW CAN I SERVE YOU BETTER? HOW MAY WE SERVE YOU BETTER? HERE ARE THE ANSWERS

These are some of the comments that we received. We want you to know. We intend to act on your recommendations.

- Produce a video that gives a tour of the college campus.

VA Pastor

- Have state place Southeastern Free Will Baptist College road signs on main highways.

NC Layman

- Offer a two year Associate Degree for married students over 25 who have already been involved in the ministry such as bus director, youth pastor, etc.

AR College Student

- Saturday morning "brunches" served by students to senior citizen's groups, auxiliaries and men's groups providing a tour of the campus.

NC Pastor

- Occasional articles written by administration, faculty or cooperating pastors on current theological, educational or philosophical trends — then distributed to pastors.

IN Pastor

- Keep list of available housing to send to new married students giving an idea of the available housing in the area.

NC Student

- Provide students an area to work on their cars.

College Professor

- Home study courses for preachers who will not be able to attend college, as well as for the lay people of churches.

VA Pastor

- I would suggest a drama team. Many kids do not sing well enough to be in the choir, yet they have a desire to do something for the Lord. A drama team would provide this, plus another outlet for promotions.

NC Pastor

- Give faculty refresher course on counselling college students.

College Professor

- Make tapes for local radio program to promote the college locally.

NC Layman

- Possibly a course could be added that deals with the training of being a Godly wife or husband. This is a much needed area.

College Student Parent

- Always strive for "quality" and not just "quantity."

College Student Parent

- Have a Southeastern lapel pin made to sell.

NC Layman

- Take advantage of the large number of Christian Schools in our area and get college kids and groups into our Christian school chapel services.

I NEED YOUR HELP AND I NEED IT - NOW!

Recently I was told of a pamphlet that asked the question, "How To Raise Money For Your Ministry?" The next page gave this answer — ASK FOR IT!

Since the beginning of Southeastern Free Will Baptist College, we haven't done a lot of "asking." Because of that, I feel it has led to an attitude on the field, that we do not have very many needs.

But to the contrary, quite the opposite is true. We have many, many needs, among which, at the present time, is a financial need.

Many of you are aware of our beginning. A group of men met in the spring of 1982 with a dream. In the fall of 1982, we met again with a dream and $1,000. From those two meetings, Southeastern Free Will Baptist College began. As you know, we were first located in Virginia Beach and housed in the facilities of Gateway Free Will Baptist Church. It was our intention to stay in the Tidewater area. Several Search Committees, over a period of four years, could not locate affordable property so it became necessary for us to look elsewhere. The rest is history. We located 61 acres in Wendell, North Carolina and began construction in July, 1987. Classes began in October, 1987.

The relocating of faculty, staff and students, in addition to buying land and building buildings, was certainly a great undertaking for such a young college.

The truth of the matter is, the move cost us more, money-wise, than we could ever have estimated.

We have been "under the gun" financially since our relocation. In addition, add the news that we received in September that our bond company had gone bankrupt (their problem, not ours), and it almost seems like Murphy's Law has been our pattern.

I have said all of that to say this: We do need your help in a financial way. We need your regular gifts and we need your students.

We have a good school. Our graduates are going out and doing a great job on the field. We are still committed to the philosophy and standards that made Free Will Baptists great!

We are worthy of your support. Why not put an offering in the business reply envelope and drop it in the mail today. We need your help, now!

It will be greatly appreciated and you will enable us to continue to train Christian leaders for the 21st century.

We are counting on you!
