A STATEMENT OF DIRECTION AND PURPOSE

This is my first opportunity to address you through our official publication, The Standard. As you know, I became president of Southeastern Free Will Baptist College on August 1, 1989. I am happy to report that things are going well, and there is an attitude of excitement among our faculty and students. We are asking God to make this a year of revival!

I have served on the Southeastern Board of Directors since the beginning of our college. I have always been a staunch supporter of the college, but must admit that I am even more in love with Southeastern and all she stands for than ever before. Being on campus, working with our staff, and fellowshiping with the students has a way of "capturing" your heart. We really have a great school! We have much to be proud of and much for which to be thankful. I am privileged that the Lord has allowed me to be a part of such a great group of people.

Since becoming president, several comments have reached me that have filtered in from the field, and I would like to address these and try to answer some of the questions some people apparently have.

First, I would like to speak to the "direction" of our college. May I emphatically state to all of those who are interested, there has been no change of direction! We are still on the course that brought us into existence. That course was for us to build a FREE WILL BAPTIST COLLEGE like no other Free Will Baptist College presently in existence. We chose to start a Free Will Baptist College that would emphasize soul winning, revival, local church, pastoral leadership, missions, Christian schools, high standards, being fundamental in doctrine and practice, and a commitment to a practical application. This was our direction in the beginning, and this is our direction now, and will continue to be our direction for the future.

Secondly, I would like to reaffirm our position on the Bible and the blood! We use the King James Version as our textbook, we recommend that our preacher boys preach only from the King James Version, and all of our chapel speakers preach from the King James Version. The only time anyone has been exposed to any other translation is in the study of the original language, or in the exposition and exegesis of Scripture.

President Billy Bevan

We continue to hold the blood-stained banner high. We have not dipped the colors! We are still holding to, and preaching the same blood-bought way that Free Will Baptists have always preached. Nothing could be any more crystal clear than Hebrews 9:22. That is what we believe, and that is what we preach and teach.

Finally, I assure you that we are still holding true to our distinctives. As Free Will Baptists, we teach the doctrine of apostasy. We do believe and teach that it is possible for a person to make shipwreck of faith, and forfeit his salvation after he is saved. We do not propagate the belief of the "eternal security" of the believer, and we never have. We still believe in the ordinance of washing the saint's feet, and we still hold to the old line that

SEVENTH ANNUAL MISSIONS CONFERENCE November 12-14

One of the highlights of our college year is our annual missionary conference. God has spoken to us each year during these conferences and many lasting decisions have been made regarding missionary service.

We believe we have an outstanding program planned for this year's conference. Four speakers, who are successful in their fields of service, will be ministering to us. Bro. Bobby Aycock, veteran missionary to Brazil, will bring messages that will challenge our hearts to go to the foreign fields of the world. Bro. Tim Trimble, who has just led his home mission church to self-supporting status, will be preaching and stirring our hearts for home missions. Bro. James Walden, who has been used of God to build some great works, will speak to us as a missionary supporting pastor. Dr. Stox, one of our professors, will share with you that the heartbeat of South-eastern Free Will Baptist College is world missions. Our music department, under the direction of Bro. Randy Sawyer, will be in charge of our music.

You would honor us by attending this conference. We are looking forward to your visit and praying that God will challenge all of us. We are praying the Lord of the harvest will be pleased to call some of our students to labor in His harvest fields.

1989-90 STUDENT BODY PROJECT COMPLETE

Last year's student body, led by Bill Jewell and Steve Berry, gave the college the material to construct a large pavilion on the campus. This past summer the pavilion was constructed and has become a popular place this fall for our students. We would like to thank the students for their gift and the faculty and friends for their time in helping construct it. It certainly adds to the decor of our campus and will prove to be a useful place.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Officers of student organizations and prayer captains attended a two-day conference on leadership prior to the opening of the fall semester. The conference was held on campus and was conducted by faculty members and newly elected president, Billy Bevan.

Student body president, Wayne Tarver (Florida) said, "The leadership conference was above all things a challenge. It once again made me aware of the great extent of my obligation to God and to man."

The conference is planned to be an annual meeting for student leaders.

GET ACQUAINTED DAYS

High school juniors, seniors and graduates will be gathering on the campus November 16-19 for our annual fall "Get Acquainted Days." These are certainly exciting and important days. A great host of young people make their decision to attend college at times like this. It is so important for Christian young people to visit the campus of a Christian college and feel the heartbeat of that college. Life changing decisions are made during these times.

This year's "Get Acquainted Days" should prove to be the best ever. Many changes have been made on campus and the spirit is as good as it has ever been. A good number of exciting things are planned this year which will greatly enhance campus life even during Get Acquainted Days.

Make plans to attend and catch the exciting Southeastern spirit. Call or write to us for more information.

GIVING HIS BEST TO THE MASTER

Samson had a jawbone, David had a sling, Dorcas had a needle, and Rahab had a string — Marvin Williams has a vision for a beautiful campus and this story is still being written. What a refreshing and inspiring layman from the First Free Will Baptist Church, Raleigh, NC, who has given hours on top of hours in landscaping and campus beautification this summer. Mr. Williams has enlisted the help of many ladies and men from surrounding churches — First FWB Church, Raleigh, NC; Faith FWB Church, Goldsboro, NC; Hilltop FWB Church, Fuquay-Varina, NC; college staff and faculty, students and friends in these projects. Several friends have donated items and monies specifically in this endeavor. Thanks many times over!!!!

Several areas have become focal points of beauty — park bench patio areas enhance the academic building, a patio area with umbrella-covered tables grace the cafeteria building (a special thanks to Mr. S.L. Johnson and Hilltop FWB Church), landscaping timbers have been added to numerous areas for protection from erosion as well as for beauty, rocked walkways lead to our newly acquired tennis courts which were donated last year, along with a rocked walkway to a beautiful pavilion — a project of the 88-89 student body. The pavilion materials were purchased by the students and constructed by faculty and friends. Students have already enjoyed many hours at the pavilion even in the early days of this new school year. Thanks to all involved! Many, many new plants and trees enhance the campus. There is so much beauty here yet there is much more to be done. Mr. Williams has a master plan which has been approved by the administration.

There is still much to do, so if there are folks on the field who wish to get involved, we will work through Mr. Williams to make this campus the best it can be.

To you, Mr. Marvin Williams, thank you and we love you.

DIRECTION AND PURPOSE

movies, mixed swimming, dancing, and immodest dress are wrong and will hinder any Christian who desires God's best for their life.

What I have been saying is this: "You can trust us!" We are still on the course that brought us into existence.

I appeal to you to help us. Please pray for us daily. We must have your faithful prayer support. But more than that, trust us with your young people. We will do our best to send them back to you better equipped to do a lasting work for God. Put us in your church budget. Your regular gifts would be a tremendous help. Sign a personal checkbook. If you are interested in a Free Will Baptist College that believes in soul winning, revival, missions, local church, pastoral leadership, Christian schools, high standards, the fundamentals of the faith, and a practical application, then Southeastern Free Will Baptist College is for you. I can assure you that we are worthy of your trust and support.

My office door and phone line are always open. If you have a question, problem, or even a criticism, please do not hesitate to call or come by. I will be more than glad to talk with you.

I desire your prayers as I serve as both a pastor and a president. I know there is strength for the task, and the Lord will enable me to do the job, with your regular prayer support.

It is my prayer that God will bless you all. Come by to see us, and remember, you can count on us — we are counting on you!

STAFF RETREAT REFRESHING

August 17-19 was a special time for all the faculty and staff of Southeastern Free Will Baptist College. How refreshing it was to get away for a special time of inspiration, planning and challenge for our new college year. Such comments as, "This is one of the best things we have ever done," characterized the attitudes of many. The administration plans for this to be an annual event.

As a result of this retreat, the faculty and staff were anxious for the new college year to begin because of a renewed vision of what God could, and would, accomplish for His glory through servants yielded to Him.

Thanks, administration, for allowing us this "special" time.

WISH LIST

We can use the following sports equipment: volleyball net and balls, tennis rackets and balls, air hockey table, field line marker, basketballs, and bases.

For the library, The Free Will Baptist Story by Damon C. Dodd and the History of Free Will Baptists by Norman Allen Baxter. Both are no longer in print and we would love to have them for our library.
